BUTTER AND EGGS AS CARD PRIZES.

Gibsonburg, O.—Mrs. J. L. Hart, wife of a leading physician, who gave a card party Saturday, pondered a long time on suitable prizes, desiring to give articles which would combine novelty with intrinsic worth.

When the playing had ceased, Mrs. Hart proudly gave to the winner of the first prize a pound of rich creamery butter; to the winner of the second, a dozen eggs, laid that day.

As a result, the card club has voted to abandon doilies and silk stockings as prizes at their weekly parties hereafter, and will follow Mrs. Hart's example.

PROPHETS WITHOUT HONOR.

In this age of skepticism, when natives of the state of Missouri seem to be surprisingly numerous and the principle of "seeing is believing" has been carried to extremes, the professional prophets who issue almanacs of prognostication have enjoyed a peculiar immunity, says the Pittsburgh Gazette Times. Every year the credulous and superstitious hasten to buy their publications and to marvel at the wide range of predictions which they comprise. While the circulation of these almanacs is more extensive in Great Britain than in this country, it is not gratifying to our national pride to learn that 100,000 copies are prepared annually for American consumption. But even at this late day some of the dupes are "getting wise" and beginning to check up the prophets, comparing promise with performance. Zerkel, Old Moore and other of the prognosticators who make their headquarters in London have been subjected to this process, and the result should not be without its effect on the circulation of their next year's almanacs.

For January, 1909, Old Moore predicted "a most terrible railway accident with appalling loss of life." It was to occur somewhere in the British Isles, but, fortunately he missed his guess. February was to be favored with "a dreadful theater or public building catastrophe in the Manchester district." A Pacific tidal wave was scheduled for March. A "discovery of enormous mountains of silver ore in Mexico" was to have upset the bullion market in June. A terrible catastrophe, with details conveniently vague, was on the July program for Paris, while in September the West Indies escaped "an awful convulsion of nature, earthquake, tidal wave and volcanic disturbances." The November prediction contains the following warning: "The president of the United States will be in grave danger if he visits New York."

The only time the professional prophets make a hit is after the event. The number of inspired persons who predicted the San Francisco earthquake is beyond computation, but one and all neglected to warn the threatened city until it was too late. If people are going to be so mean as to check up old predictions and see whether they came to pass, it won't be long until the prophet is without honor, not only in his own country, but everywhere else.

SCALLOPED SALISFY WITH CHEESE.

Scrape the salisfy roots and drop into cold water to which two table-spoonfuls of vinegar have been added. When all are scraped cut the roots into thin slices, letting each slice fall into the water as cut. Stir a table-spoonful of flour to a smooth, thin paste with cold water, then stir while gradually pouring on a quart or more of boiling water; let the whole boil, then add the prepared salisfy, a teaspoonful of salt and a table-spoonful of vinegar. Cook the salisfy until tender, replenishing the saucepan with boiling water as needed. When done drain off the water. For a pint of cooked salisfy prepare a cup and a half of cream sauce. Put a layer of sauce in a gratin dish, add a layer of salisfy, and sprinkle with grated cheese; dust very lightly with white pepper. Continue until all the ingredients are used, having the sauce on top, then sprinkle with cheese and cover with buttered cracker crumbs—two-thirds of a cup of cracker crumbs stirred into one-third of a cup of melted butter. Set into a hot oven to brown the crumbs.

A Startling Statement

New York Medical Authorities Claim Dyspepsia to be a Pre-Disposing Cause of Consumption

The post mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that some cases of consumption are due, at least indirectly, to unchecked dyspepsia, especially when the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Dyspepsia wears out the body and brain. The weakened, irritable stomach being unable to digest food, the body does not receive the required nourishment, and the victim becomes thin, weak and haggard. As a result, the body becomes a fertile field in which the germs of disease may lodge and flourish.

Therefore, the person who permits dyspepsia to progress unhindered is guilty of contributing toward the development of one of the most insidious and fatal diseases known to mankind. Dyspepsia may be completely eradicated if properly treated. We sell a remedy that we positively guarantee will completely relieve indigestion or dyspepsia, or the medicine used during the trial will cost the user nothing.

This remedy has been named Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no offer could be more fair, and our offer should be proof positive that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable remedy.

Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you, we urge you who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. A 25-cent box contains enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. For chronic cases we have two larger sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Phoenix only at our store, The Rexall Store. The Owl Pharmacy, Andrew H. Miller, Mgr., corner Adams street and First avenue.
